

You Deserve The Best . . . Chocolate valentine!

Whether you'd like to gift some sweets or simply want to treat yourself, we've uncovered such unique candies, you'll savor them almost as much as the time you spend with loved ones!

If you want . . .

CUTE YET CHIC CARAMELS:

Whimsical Candy La-Dee-Dahs
The unofficial "candy capital" of the world right now? "Chicago," declares candy expert Beth Kimmerle (BethKimmerle.com) without hesitation. "It's churning out some really exciting confections, like these cute swirls made of white chocolate nougat and sea-salt caramel; they're gourmet-ified caramels that make a great gift for Valentine's Day!"

THOUGHTFUL BONBONS:

Intentional Chocolate Raspberry Hearts
These hearts, made with Hawaiian chocolate, give new meaning to the adage "It's the thought that counts," promises Sera Gencarelli (TheCandyEnthusiast.com). "They're blessed by monks! Not only are they bursting with raspberries, which complement the dark chocolate perfectly, they're also literally infused with good feelings. Plus, 50% of the profits go to charity."

PERSONALIZED SENTIMENTS:

Chocri Customized Chocolate Bars
Pastry chef Jessica Petersen (PieOfTheTiger.com) was destined to love chocolate: "I was born on Valentine's Day," she smiles. Another act of the foodie fates? "Getting introduced to these bars, which you completely personalize, right down to the message! You pick your base—white, milk or dark chocolate—then choose up to six toppings."

CREAMY DECADENCE:

Rogers' Chocolates Victoria Creams
"These creams are amazing," says self-described "chocolate devourer" Alyssa Cartlidge (BlogChocolate.com). "Their smooth fondant center is enrobed in rich bittersweet chocolate, and they come in so many flavors, from maple to almond brittle." A bonus? "You can customize your box—it's good to be able to pick and choose!"

A-Z VARIETY FOR GOURMANDS:

Vosges Mini Exotic Candy Bar Library
"Vosges is my favorite chocolatier," declares chocolate reviewer Julie Anderson (BoogaJ.com). "And this Mini Exotic Candy Bar Library is a great value because all nine flavors are truly gourmet, from the spicy Red Fire Bar to the buttery Bapchi's Toffee Bar. One of my favorites is the Creole, made with coffee, cocoa nibs and bittersweet chocolate—so rich!"
